

The L.B. Houston Nature Trails are located within the L.B. Houston Greenbelt and the Elm Fork Greenbelt in Northwest Dallas near the Elm Fork of the Trinity River. There are two sections of trails, one adjacent to California Crossing Road, and the other east of Wildwood Road. The Dallas Off-Road Bicycle Association (DORBA) maintains and programs the section adjacent to California Crossing Road for off-road bicycling. Parking is available at both locations. These trails will link to the proposed Elm Fork Greenbelt Trail.

Total Planned Length: 35,024 Linear Feet (6.6 miles)
 Total Current Length: 35,024 Linear Feet (6.6 miles)
 Percent Complete: 100%
 Surface: Natural
 Width: Variable
 Right-of-Way Status: The trails are wholly within city owned property. No additional right-of-way is required.
 Est. Unfunded Need: N/A
 Advocacy/Partnership: Dallas Off Road Bicycle Association (DORBA) maintains and programs the section next to California Crossing Park. (Refer to www.dorba.com)

